Adoption:

The Adoption Assistance Program offers financial assistance to eligible employees to adopt children under 18 years old who are eligible for adoption in accordance with applicable law.

Eligibility

This Program applies to you if you are a U.S. Regular Full-time or Regular Part-time employee. Coverage under the Program is automatic once you have satisfied the eligibility requirements - you do not need to take any action to enroll.

To be reimbursed for covered expenses, you must incur the expenses while you are covered by the Program and you must be an employee on the date your claim for reimbursement is filed. The claim must be filed no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred.

Eligible expenses will only include an expense you incur after your date of hire.

If your employment terminates for any reason while the adoption is in process, you will not be eligible for reimbursement under this Program.

Benefits summary

The Program will reimburse up to the current maximum amount allowed for adoption by the IRS (which is described below) for an "eligible adoption-related expense". An "eligible adoption-related expense" is any expense that is a qualified adoption expense under section 137 of the Internal Revenue Code - these generally include:

- adoption agency and placement fees
- legal fees and court costs incurred for an adoption
- other expenses that are directly related to, and the principal purpose of which is for, legal adoption
- transportation and lodging expenses while away from home in connection with the adoption
- unreimbursed medical expenses for the birth mother and child before the adoption

The Adoption Assistance Program will only cover expenses listed as eligible. No expense will be covered unless it is reasonable and necessary and directly related to, and for the principal purpose of, adopting a child. You may not claim an adoption assistance tax credit on your tax return for the same adoption expenses for which you received a reimbursement under this Program. Additionally, your reimbursement may be reduced or eliminated if your income for tax purposes exceeds certain limits in the tax code.

Documentation of eligible expenses must be itemized and include the name of the person, organization or entity to which the expenses were paid; and must include the amount, date, and nature of each expense.

The Adoption Assistance Program covers the adoption of an "eligible child". An "eligible child" generally is any child who, at the time the expense is incurred, is under the age of 18 or is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself or herself. This may include the adoption of:

- children related to the employee by blood
- foster children
- grandchildren
- step children

Please refer to the Adoption Assistance page on BenefitsConnect for additional details.

Taking time off

Adopting employees receive 8 weeks of 100% paid bonding leave. Please refer to the Leaves of Absence page on BenefitsConnect.

Reimbursement

Once the adoption is final and adoption bills have been paid, submit the adoption assistance request form to:

- the HR Service Center

You will need to include:

- canceled checks from expenses paid
- a certified copy of the adoption decree
- itemized bills, invoices and receipts

Requests for reimbursement and the necessary documentation must be submitted no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred. Your reimbursement will be paid through a separate check or, if you have arranged for direct deposit, will be deposited to your bank account as soon as administratively practicable.

Maximum

Eligible expenses can be reimbursed up to the current maximum credit allowed by the IRS for each adopted child. Even if both adopting parents are employed by Boston Scientific, the total reimbursement per eligible child will be limited to that same current maximum credit allowed by the IRS. So, if you and your spouse are both eligible, you should submit only one reimbursement request.

The Adoption Assistance Program does not limit the number of adoptions that may be submitted for reimbursement.

Married couples working at Boston Scientific

If my spouse and I both work for BSC, how will my benefits be affected?

If you are married to (or adopt a child with) another Boston Scientific employee, only one employee may submit one reimbursement request for eligible expenses per adoption.

Direct payment to billing party

Does the company directly pay the adoption costs?

No, you cannot have adoption expenses paid directly to the billing party. You must pay these expenses and then apply to the Adoption Assistance Program for reimbursement.

Paying taxes on reimbursement

Will I have to pay taxes on any reimbursements?

Generally, benefits received under the Adoption Assistance Program are not subject to Federal income tax withholding but are subject to FICA tax withholding. State tax treatment varies from state to state.

The company will withhold any necessary taxes from your benefit payments. You should talk with your tax advisor if you have any questions about your tax liability.

Adoption assistance while on leave of absence

If I am on a leave of absence, am I still eligible for adoption assistance?

You can apply for and receive benefits under the Adoption Assistance Program while you are on an approved leave of absence, so long as the adoption is finalized within 6 months of the first day of your leave of absence. In addition, to receive benefits, you must submit the necessary forms and documentation no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred.

Leaving the company

If I have an existing claim and leave the company, will I still be reimbursed?

If you leave the company, you are still eligible to be reimbursed for your eligible adoption expenses, as long as you were a regular full-time or regular part-time employee on the date that the adoption was finalized and you submit the necessary forms and documentation no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred.

You will receive your reimbursement in a separate check as soon as administratively practicable.

Beneficiary elections

Q. How do I make changes to my beneficiary elections?

A. These are the benefit plans under which a beneficiary is eligible to receive a benefit in the event of the covered person's death:

- Basic Life Insurance
- Basic Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance
- Business Travel Accident Insurance
- Voluntary Life Insurance (if enrolled)
- Voluntary Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance (if enrolled)
- The Boston Scientific Corporation 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan (if enrolled)
- The Global Employee Stock Ownership Plan (if enrolled)

Each plan has rules about who can be your beneficiary. Please remember, if you are enrolled, you are always the beneficiary for your covered dependents under the Voluntary Child Life or Voluntary Spouse or Domestic Partner Life Insurance plans and the Voluntary Accidental Death and Dismemberment Plan (employee and family coverage). You are required by law to name your spouse as your beneficiary under the Boston Scientific Corporation 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan, unless you get your spouse's written notarized consent to name someone else.

Review the specific plan for more information about beneficiary elections.

Surrogacy:

The Surrogacy Assistance Program offers reimbursement for eligible employees for eligible surrogacy-related expenses.

Eligibility

This Program applies to you if you are a U.S. Regular Full-time or Regular Part-time employee. Coverage under the Program is automatic once you have satisfied the eligibility requirements - you do not need to take any action to enroll.

To be reimbursed for covered expenses, you must incur the expenses while you are covered by the Program and you must be an employee on the date your claim for reimbursement is filed.

Eligible expenses will only include an expense you incur after your date of hire.

If your employment terminates for any reason while the adoption is in process, you will not be eligible for reimbursement under this Program.

Benefits summary

The Program will reimburse up to $14K for incurred "eligible surrogacy-related expenses". To receive reimbursement under the program for eligible surrogacy-related expenses, you must file a Surrogacy Program Reimbursement Request Form with the Boston Scientific HR Service Center no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred. Expenses are considered incurred when services are provided, not when payment is made. Pre-paid expenses will be reimbursed when the services are provided and only if you were covered under the program when you paid the pre-paid expenses. To be reimbursed for covered expenses, you must incur the expenses while you are covered by the Program and you must be an Employee on the date your claim for reimbursement is filed. To qualify for reimbursement on the expense must be:

- An "eligible surrogacy-related expense"

Expenses that are eligible for reimbursement under the program include:

- Court costs, legal and attorney's fees
- Egg/sperm donation agency fees
- Surrogacy agency fees
- Gestational carrier, egg/sperm donor screening costs
- Donor fertility costs and fees not covered by another source
- Surrogate/gestational carrier compensation, includes, but is not limited to, surrogacy-specific life insurance and disability insurance (offered during surrogacy) and lost wages of the surrogate/gestational carrier at time of delivery
- Egg/sperm donor compensation
- Egg/sperm donation shipping and transport fees
- In vitro fertilization (IVF) costs related to the impregnation of the surrogate or egg/sperm donation
- Travel costs and lodging for the intended parents and any minor children associated with the surrogacy process (including ground and air travel)
- Fees associated with the adoption of a child through a legally recognized surrogate arrangement

Expenses that are not eligible for reimbursement under the program include:

- Expenses with respect to a surrogacy arrangement that is in violation of state or federal law

- Expenses that are reimbursed from another source
- Expenses related to medical claims for the surrogate IVF performed on the employee for egg retrieval
- Voluntary donations or contributions to the surrogacy agency
- Expenses for international surrogacy arrangements (i.e., surrogate is living outside the U.S.)
- Miscellaneous gifts or personal expenses for the surrogate and her family members
- Expenses for surrogates/gestational carriers who are company employees

Please refer to the Surrogacy Assistance page on BenefitsConnect for additional details.

Taking time off

Employees growing their family through a surrogate receive 8 weeks of 100% paid bonding leave. Please refer to the Leaves of Absence page on BenefitsConnect.

Reimbursement

Submit the Surrogacy Reimbursement form to:

- the HR Service Center

You will need to include:

- canceled checks from expenses paid
- itemized bills, invoices and receipts

Requests for reimbursement and the necessary documentation must be submitted no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred. Your reimbursement will be paid through a separate check or, if you have arranged for direct deposit, will be deposited to your bank account as soon as administratively practicable.

Contributions

You do not contribute to the program. Boston Scientific pays all benefits under the program from its general assets.

Maximum

The amount available for reimbursement under the program with respect to any eligible child is limited to $14,000 for each delivery (i.e., per delivery even in the case of a multiple child delivery).

Married couples working for the same company

If my spouse and I both work for the company, how will my benefits be affected?

If you are married to (or have a child through surrogacy with) another employee of Boston Scientific or another Participating Employer, only one eligible Employee may submit eligible expenses for reimbursement under the program.

Direct payment to billing party

Does the company directly pay the adoption costs?

No, you cannot have adoption expenses paid directly to the billing party. You must pay these expenses and then apply to the Surrogacy Reimbursement Program for reimbursement.

Paying taxes on reimbursement

Tax Considerations

Benefits paid under this program are considered taxable income for federal, state and local tax purposes.

The company will withhold any necessary taxes from your benefit payments. You should talk with your tax advisor if you have any questions about your tax liability.

Surrogacy assistance while on leave of absence

If I am on a leave of absence, am I still eligible for surrogacy assistance?

You can apply for and receive benefits under the Surrogacy Assistance Program while you are on an approved leave of absence, so long as the adoption is finalized within 6 months of the first day of your leave of absence. In addition, to receive benefits, you must submit the necessary forms and documentation no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred.

Leaving the company

If I have an existing claim and leave the company, will I still be reimbursed?

If you leave the company, you are still eligible to be reimbursed for your eligible adoption expenses, as long as you were a regular full-time or regular part-time employee on the date of birth and you submit the necessary forms and documentation no later than May 31 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the expenses were incurred.

You will receive your reimbursement in a separate check as soon as administratively practicable.

Having a baby

Having a baby

Congratulations! Having a baby is a big event in your life, and you will have many new decisions to make. This section provides information on the things you may need to do or think about that relate to your employment and benefits with the company.

Taking time off

Eligible employees receive paid time off upon the birth of a child. Birth mothers receive a total of 6 weeks leave according to the rules of the Short-term Disability Program and 8 weeks of bonding leave paid at 100%. Non-birth parents, adoptive parents and parents who use a surrogate receive a total of 8 weeks paid at 100%. Please refer to the Leaves of Absence page on BenefitsConnect for additional details.

Your job

Family and Medical Leave Act

If you are eligible to take leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act, your job will be protected.

Filing a claim and getting paid

You will need to file a claim by contacting: Sedgwick. Please review the Employee Leaves of Absence Guide on the Leaves of Absence page.

Impact on benefits

Impact on benefits: You should check to see what maternity coverage you have under your medical plan. You will want to know how much the plan will pay for maternity expenses, such as charges for delivery, hospital and doctor's charges.

If you have not selected a doctor yet, you should choose an obstetrician for the mother and a pediatrician for the baby.

Having a baby is a qualified change in status. This means that you can change your benefit elections without waiting until the next open enrollment period. You have 31-days from the date of your child's birth (or adoption placement date) to make any permissible changes to your benefits. Please note, the date of the qualified event (date of birth) counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline. Remember, if you make changes to your benefits coverage, your payroll deductions will change accordingly.

Once you have provided your child's information to Boston Scientific, you will need to select the benefits plans under which you would like to cover your child. If you do not complete an enrollment for each plan, your child will not be covered under that plan. Be sure to review the summary of your benefit changes once you have submitted them to ensure accuracy.

If your day care expenses will change, you may want to change your contributions to your Dependent Day Care Flexible Spending Account.

You can also choose to set aside additional pre-tax dollars in a Health Care Flexible Spending Account or Health Savings Account to pay for any additional health costs for your new child.

With a new addition to the family, this may be a good time to review your beneficiary elections for all your benefit plans.

Below you will find a description of the changes you can make when you have a baby. To enroll your child in coverage, you must select coverage for your child under each plan(s) you wish to cover them under in addition to providing the company with their information. If you fail to select coverage under a plan, your child will not be enrolled for coverage in that plan.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455 or you may complete the changes through YourBenefits.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from the date of birth or adoption placement date. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: on the date of birth, provided your changes are received within 31-days of date of the birth of your child. However, if you choose voluntary life insurance or voluntary accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage or choose to increase amounts you contribute to your health care flexible spending and/or dependent day care flexible spending account for you and/or your dependents, these coverages become effective as soon as administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

Child ceases to be eligible for benefits

Child ceases to be eligible for benefits

Your child is no longer eligible for child life insurance coverage, critical illness and accident insurance when they reach the plan's age limit of 26 years of age. The BSC medical, dental and vision coverage will automatically be cancelled at the end of the month in which your child turns age 26. However, it's your responsibility to cancel the child life insurance, critical illness or accident coverage. Contact the HR Service Center to cancel these plans. In some cases, if a mental or physical disability occurs prior to that age and while your child is covered by the plan, he or she may remain eligible for coverage after that age limit.

Cobra

When your child ceases to be eligible, coverage under certain group health plans will end for your child. Coverage that they are currently enrolled in under these plans may be continued, however, through COBRA for up to 36 months by paying 100% of the group rate, plus an additional 2% to cover the company's administrative expenses.

Impact on benefits

When your child ceases to be eligible for benefits, this is a qualified change in status that allows you to make changes to your benefit plan elections. Below you will find a description of when your child's eligibility ends, and the changes you can make when your child ceases to be eligible for benefits.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455, or you may complete the changes through YourBenefits.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from the date your child ceases to be eligible for benefits. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: on the day that your child ceases to be eligible for coverage. However, if you choose to change (increase or decrease) your voluntary life insurance or voluntary accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage or to decrease the amount you contribute to your health care flexible spending account for you and/or your dependents, changes in these coverages become effective as soon as administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

Description of the changes you can make if your child ceases to be eligible for benefits

The Boston Scientific Medical, Dental and Vision Plans

Age limit for dependent child:

Coverage can continue up to age 26.

Making changes: You can:

- remove your child from your coverage

Coverage of your child generally ends at the end of the month the child no longer meets the eligibility requirements.

Flexible Spending Account

- Age limit for dependent child:
If you are enrolled in the Dependent Day Care FSA, you are eligible to submit daycare, preschool, before/after school programs and summer camp expenses for your child up to the maximum age of 13. Once your child is no longer eligible, it's your responsibility to cancel your enrollment.
- You can submit claim reimbursements for your children up to age 26 under the Health Care FSA plan.

Making changes: You can:

- change contributions (you should be aware of other requirements should your coverage drop to employee-only coverage once your child ages-out and drops from your medical plan)

Voluntary Child Life Insurance, Critical Illness Coverage and Accident Insurance Coverage

Age limit for dependent child:

Coverage can continue up to age 26.

Making changes: You can:

- cancel your coverage, if the child is the only child covered under the plan

Coverage of the child will end at the end of the month the child no longer meets the eligibility requirements.

Death of a child

Death of a child

The death of a child is one of the most devastating events that one can ever experience. On this page, you will find information to help simplify the work-related actions you may need to take and other changes you may want to consider.

Taking time off

You may need to take time off. If you need time off beyond what is provided through the bereavement policy, you should speak with your manager. While options vary by role and employee, you may also want to understand your options for a temporary flexible work arrangement if necessary.

Plans that may pay benefits

You should file a claim for benefits if your child was covered under:

| Plan Name | Claims contact |
|--------------------------------|---|
| Voluntary Child Life Insurance | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • MetLife MetLife Insurance Company 1-800-638-6420 • the HR Service Center |

You should also check to see if your child was covered under any of your spouse's or partner's benefit plans.

Be sure to obtain several copies of the death certificate. You may need to provide one for each plan your child was covered under to claim death benefits.

Impact on benefits

The death of your child is a qualified change in status that allows you to make changes to your benefit plan elections. Below you will find a description of the changes you can make if your child passes.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from your child's death. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: on the date of your child's death for any coverage that terminates upon his or her death. You may change your coverage level in your medical, dental or vision plans, as well as decrease or stop your contributions to the Dependent Day Care FSA (if there are no other eligible dependents), decrease your coverage in the Health Care FSA, cancel your voluntary child life coverage (if no other children are covered); increase or decrease your voluntary accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage. These changes become effective as soon as is administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

For plans where a beneficiary is named to receive a benefit in the event of a death, you can change your beneficiary elections at any time.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from your divorce. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: on the date of your divorce. However, if you choose to change (increase or decrease) your voluntary life insurance or voluntary accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage or to decrease amounts you contribute to your health care flexible spending and/or to change (increase or decrease) the amount you contribute to your dependent day care flexible spending account for you and/or your dependents, these coverages become effective as soon as administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

For plans where a beneficiary is named to receive a benefit in the event of a death, you can change your beneficiary elections at any time. If your spouse is your designated beneficiary on your 401(k) account, be aware that your divorce automatically invalidates that designation. Contact Vanguard to update your beneficiary designation.

When you get divorced, coverage under certain plans will end for your ex-spouse. Coverage under the health care plans in which they are currently enrolled may be continued through COBRA by paying 100% of the group rate, plus an additional 2% to cover the company's administrative expenses.

Remember, you or your spouse must notify the HR Service Center within 60 days of your divorce. If you do, your ex-spouse will be notified about his or her right to elect COBRA within 14 days after the HR Service Center receives timely notice of the divorce. Your ex-spouse may also be able to convert coverage under certain plans to an individual policy.

Getting Married

Getting married

Congratulations! Getting married is a major event in your life. On this page you will find information that will be helpful to you and your new spouse. There are some things that you may want to do, such as add your new spouse to your health plan.

Taking time off

You may need to take time off to prepare for your wedding and to go on a honeymoon.

Impact on benefits

Getting married is a qualified change in status. This means you may be allowed to make changes to your benefit elections without waiting until the next annual open enrollment period.

Remember, if you increase your benefits coverage, or make any other changes, your payroll deductions will change accordingly. You have 31-days from the date of your marriage to make any permissible changes to your benefit elections. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.

Once you have provided your spouse's information to Boston Scientific, you will need to select the benefits plans under which you would like to cover your new spouse. If you do not complete an enrollment for each plan, your spouse will not be covered under that plan.

Due to your marriage, you may want to change your beneficiary for life insurance and other benefit plans. In general, you can name anyone you wish as a beneficiary under your life insurance plans, including a trust or an estate, or you can name more than one beneficiary.

For retirement plans, you are required by law to name your spouse as your beneficiary, unless you get your spouse's written notarized consent to name someone else.

Voluntary Spouse or Domestic Partner Life Insurance

You can enroll. You may need approval by the insurance company if you elect above a certain level of coverage.

Voluntary Child Life Insurance

You can enroll into the Voluntary Child Life Insurance Plan.

Short-Term Disability

You cannot make any changes to your coverage.

Long-Term Disability

You cannot make any changes to your coverage.

Pay-related changes

If you make any changes to your benefit elections, your payroll deductions will change accordingly.

You should update your direct deposit information if opening a new account or changing accounts. You may want to review your W-4 withholding allowances and make changes, if applicable. The amount of your take-home pay may change if you decide to change your benefit plan elections or change your tax withholding elections. If your name has changed, you must complete a new W-4.

You can get a W-4 form and any necessary state tax forms from:

Getting Separated

Getting separated

Getting legally separated can be a difficult process. Below is information on how a separation might affect your job and your benefits.

Taking time off

You may need to take time off for legal proceedings. Speak with your Manager and HR Business Partner.

Impact on benefits

Getting legally separated is a qualified change in status. This means that you can change your benefit elections without waiting until the next annual open enrollment period. Remember, if you increase your benefits coverage, or make any other changes, your payroll deductions will change accordingly. You have 31-days from the date of your legal separation to make any permissible changes to your benefits. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.

You may want to change your beneficiary designation for your life insurance and other benefit plans.

If your separation leads to a divorce, your spouse and/or minor children may still have certain rights to your retirement benefits under a Qualified Domestic Relations Order.

Getting separated is a qualified change in status that allows you to make changes to your benefit plan elections. Below you will find a description of the changes you can make if you get legally separated.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from the date of your separation. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: on the date of your separation. However, if you choose to change (increase or decrease) your voluntary life insurance or voluntary accidental death and dismemberment insurance coverage or to decrease the amounts you contribute to your health care flexible spending and/or to change (increase or decrease) the amount you contribute to your dependent day care flexible spending account for you and/or your dependents, these coverages become effective as soon as administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

For plans where a beneficiary is named to receive a benefit in the event of a death, you can change your beneficiary elections at any time. If your spouse is your designated beneficiary on your 401(k) account, be aware that your divorce automatically invalidates that designation. Contact Vanguard to update your beneficiary designation.

When you are legally separated, coverage under certain plans will end for your spouse. Coverage under the health care plans, in which they are currently enrolled may be continued through COBRA by paying 100% of the group rate, plus an additional 2% to cover the company's administrative expenses.

Remember, you or your spouse must notify the HR Service Center within 60 days of your legal separation. If you do, your spouse will be notified about his or her right to elect COBRA within 14 days after the HR Service Center receives timely notice of the legal separation.

Moving to a new address

Moving to a new address

Moving to a new address can affect your benefit plans if your work location changes. This page contains information to guide you through the process and assist you in making any necessary changes.

Benefit-related information

Use BSCConnect to update your home address change to be sure you continue to receive all company mailings. Generally, moving will not affect most company benefits, like your 401(k) plan or vacation time.

Contact the HR Service Center to find out if your move will affect your benefits and if you need to make any changes. They will give you the information you need.

You will be notified if your medical rate changes or if your medical plan choices change because of your address change.

Pay-related information

If you are moving to a new state, you may be subject to a different state income tax rate. You may want to review your tax withholding and complete a new W-4 form to make changes. You may also be required to complete a state withholding form. You can get a W-4 form and any necessary state tax forms from:

- BSCConnect or directly from your state's website

Once you have completed and signed the forms, send to: the HR Service Center

Assistance and services

If you are transferring to a new work location at the request of the company, you may be eligible for relocation assistance. If you're moving for your own relocation preferences, you have resources available to you through our Employee Assistance Program, GuidanceResources.

Terminating with the Company

When leaving the company, there is some very important information that you will need. On this page, you will find information to help you through this process.

Impact on benefits

Your loss of employment will affect the status of your benefit plans.

Boston Scientific Medical, Dental and Vision Plans

If at the time of your termination from employment you were enrolled in medical, dental, and /or vision coverage (“health care coverage”), the Consolidated Omnibus Budget and Reconciliation Act, as amended (“COBRA”), makes continued health care coverage available for a period of up to eighteen (18) (or in some cases possibly more) months after your termination of employment. You will be provided with a COBRA notice following your employment termination from Chard Snyder, our COBRA administrator. If you make an election within 60 days of this notice, your participation in these plans may continue. To expedite receipt of your COBRA election form, you can request that Chard Snyder email it to you. Please call or email Chard Snyder with any COBRA questions at (888) 993-4646 or email- cobra@chard-snyder.com

Health Care Flexible Spending Account Claims (FSA)

If at the time of your termination of employment you were enrolled in the Health Care Flexible Spending Account, you will receive a COBRA notice following your employment termination. If you make an election within 60 days of this notice, your participation in these plans may continue on an after-tax basis for the remainder of the current calendar year only. If you do not elect to continue participation in the Health Care Flexible Spending Account through COBRA, only eligible health care expenses incurred on or before your employment termination date will be considered for reimbursement.

Dependent Care Spending Account Claims (DEPFSA)

Your participation in any Dependent Day Care Flexible Spending Account you are presently enrolled in will end on your employment termination date and only eligible expenses incurred on or before your employment termination date will be considered for reimbursement.

To access information about your FSA plan(s), contact, Chard Snyder, the FSA Administrator via email at: askpenny@chard-snyder.com or call them at 800-982-7715. Note: If you do not incur expenses and submit for reimbursement within the applicable timeframes as outlined under the plan, any remaining funds will be forfeited.

Health Savings Account (HSA)

The HSA balance is yours to keep. You can continue to use the HSA funds to pay for qualified medical expenses for you and your tax dependents. If you elect COBRA, you can also use your HSA funds to pay your COBRA premium. Maintenance/administration fees will be your responsibility. Regular distribution rules for qualified expenses will continue to apply. For additional information regarding your HSA, contact HealthEquity at 1-877-694-3938.

Company Paid Employee Basic and Voluntary Group Life and Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance

Your company-paid employee basic group life and AD&D insurance benefits will end on the date you terminate employment. If you're interested in converting the company paid Employee Basic Life coverage, please contact MetLife at 1-877-275-6387. The company-paid employee AD&D insurance does not have a conversion or portability option.

Voluntary Group Term Life and Voluntary AD&D Insurance

If enrolled, your employee-paid voluntary group term life (Employee and/or Dependent) and (AD&D) insurance benefits will also end on the date your employment terminates. Upon meeting eligibility requirements, you may have the right to convert or port your employee paid voluntary group term life and voluntary (AD&D) insurance. MetLife will mail you a conversion/portability kit. Please contact MetLife for Conversion: 1-877-275-6387; Portability: 1-888-252-3607 with any questions. Please note that the rates for an individual policy will usually be higher than the rates for a group policy through Boston Scientific. Any application(s) must be completed and returned to MetLife, along with your first premium payment, no more than 31-days after your employment termination date. Upon receipt of the application(s), the insurance company will determine your eligibility for coverage.

Business Travel Accident Insurance

Your business travel accident insurance will end on the date your employment terminates. Business Travel Accident Insurance coverage consists of two types of benefit coverage: life insurance death benefit and accidental death and dismemberment benefit ("AD&D"). This coverage is separate from the insurance coverages described above and it is when you are traveling on company business.

401(k) Retirement Savings Plan

If you participate in the Boston Scientific 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan, your contributions will end with your last paycheck. You will receive information concerning your 401(k) account directly from Vanguard soon after your termination of employment date. Any loan must be repaid in full within 90 days of your termination date, otherwise outstanding loan balances become taxable distributions to you. If you have questions about your 401(k) Plan, please call Vanguard directly, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Eastern Time, at 1-800-523-1188. (Plan #091488)

Global Employee Stock Ownership Plan

If you participate in the Boston Scientific Corporation Global Stock Ownership Plan (GESOP), and your employment terminates before the stock offering period in which you are participating ends, all contributions made by you to the GESOP during that offering period will automatically be refunded to you as soon as administratively feasible following your termination of employment date. A stock purchase will not be made on your behalf for that offering period.

Stock Options

If you were granted stock options by Boston Scientific, please carefully review the terms and conditions of your stock option grant(s) to determine the amount of time remaining to exercise your vested stock options prior to expiration. Please be aware that you may have received grants from a variety of different Boston Scientific long-term incentive plans, and the amount of time to exercise your vested stock options following your termination of employment may vary. It is important for you to know the specific terms for each of your grant(s) so that you may exercise your unexercised options, if you choose to do so, before they expire. Terminations resulting for such reasons as Cause, disability or retirement may affect the time that you have to exercise your vested stock options. If you have questions regarding your stock options, please contact E*TRADE at 1-800-838-0908.

Deferred Stock Units

If you were granted Deferred Stock Units by Boston Scientific, your unvested deferred stock units will be forfeited upon your termination from Boston Scientific employment. However, if your termination is for such reasons as disability or retirement, your unvested deferred stock units will vest and shares of Boston Scientific common stock will be issued to you. Please carefully review the terms and conditions of each of your deferred stock unit award agreements and the applicable Boston Scientific long-term incentive plan(s) to understand the consequences of your employment termination for your Deferred Stock Unit Awards. If you have any questions regarding your Deferred Stock Unit Award(s), please contact E*TRADE at 1-800-838-0908.

Voluntary Benefits

If you're enrolled in auto/home/pet insurance, critical illness/accident insurance, long term care or identity theft protection, the carrier will bill you directly for these plans.

Vacation

Employee working in California, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota or Rhode Island whose employment with Boston Scientific terminates will be paid for all balances of accrued but unused vacation time payable through the end of the month in which their employment terminates.

Employees working in other states will not receive any payout of accrued but unused vacation time, with the following exceptions:

- a) If an employee's employment ends due to an involuntary reduction in force (without cause) in 2021;
- b) A retirement-eligible employee (age of the employee plus the number of years of services equals or exceeds 65, provided the employee has reached age 55 and has five years of service) retires in 2021 after providing at least 3 months (90-days) advanced notice; or
- c) An employee's employment ends due to a voluntary termination (resignation) during the first six months of 2021, then the employee will receive payout of any earned and unused vacation time accrued.

Please refer to the Vacation Policy 4-01 for full details.

Paycheck

Your final paycheck will include earnings (if any) for all work performed through your last day worked.

Company Issued Equipment and Software

Per the Return of Company Property Policy, you are required to return all company property, issued equipment & tools (badge, keys, computer, cell phone, etc.), materials and written information issued to you prior to your last day of work. Please make arrangements with your supervisor to return such property.

Address Change

Please inform HR Service Center of any future address changes to ensure W-2 forms, 401(k) communications and other business-related correspondence reaches you in a timely manner. You may reach them at 800-570-4455

If you have any questions regarding your employee benefits, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455 from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Eastern Time or via email BSCConnectusbenefits@bsci.com.

Other things to think about

The company will provide the following information in writing or over the phone depending on the information requested:

- dates of service
- current and former job title(s) (including business title(s))
- work location(s)
- salary history only for financial or credit related purposes with employees' consent

This information will be provided by the HR Service Center.

Newly hired

Newly hired

Welcome to the company. We are happy to have you aboard. Below you will find links to some information that will help you with the transition to your new job.

Getting paid

When you are hired, you should fill out a W-4 form and a state withholding form if your state requires it. If you don't fill out a tax withholding form, your filing status will default to:

- single with zero withholding allowances for federal
- single with zero withholding allowances for state

This will result in the highest possible rate of income tax withholding from your pay.

Other deductions may also be taken from your pay, either pre-tax or after-tax.

The following pre-tax deductions are taken from your pay if you are eligible to participate and choose to do so:

- 401(k) pre-tax contributions (including catch-up contributions, if you are eligible)
- dental
- FSA - dependent day care
- FSA - health care
- HSA – Health Savings Account
- medical
- vision

After-tax deductions are taken from your pay after your pay is taxed and include all other deductions not shown above.

The pay schedule is as follows:

| Employee type | When paid | Time period | Number of pay days per year |
|---------------------------------------|-----------|--------------|-----------------------------|
| exempt employees/non-exempt employees | bi-weekly | One-week lag | 26 |

If a pay day falls on a weekend, holiday or other non-workday, you'll be paid on the business day immediately before the regularly scheduled pay day.

Boston Scientific offers employees the ability to directly deposit their paycheck into a maximum of three (3) accounts. You can deposit your net pay or a fixed amount(s) into one checking or savings account or into a combination of checking and savings accounts. The maximum combination is two (2) checking accounts and one (1) savings account or two (2) savings accounts and one (1) checking account. In addition, it is still possible to receive a live check. This policy applies to all employees.

Boston Scientific may require that you keep track of your time by completing a KRONOS monthly timesheet. You will be notified if this policy applies to you.

Benefit-related information

For some benefit elections, you have 31 calendar days from your date of hire to enroll. If you enroll within 31 calendar days of your date of hire, your coverage starts retroactive to your date of hire. If you do not enroll within that 31-day period, you will not be able to enroll until the next annual open enrollment period, unless you experience a qualifying life event or change of status as defined by federal law and determined by Boston Scientific. Please note, your date of hire counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.

Spouse gets a job

Spouse gets a job

If your spouse gets a new job, you may want to review and compare the benefit plans that are available to you and your spouse.

Impact on benefits

Your spouse getting a job is considered a qualified change in status. This means that you can make certain changes to your pre-tax benefit elections without waiting until the next open enrollment period.

Below you will find a description of the changes you can make when your spouse gets a job.

To make changes to your benefit plans, please contact the HR Service Center at 1-800-570-4455.

- Deadline to make changes: you have 31-days from the date that your spouse starts his or her new job. You must make any changes within this time. Please note, the date of the qualified event counts as day 1 in determining the 31-day deadline.
- When changes will be effective: your benefits will be effective on the date your spouse starts his or her new job provided changes are made within 31-days of the event. Note: if you choose voluntary life insurance or voluntary AD&D insurance coverage or choose to decrease the amount you contribute to your health care flexible spending and/or to change (increase or decrease) the amount you contribute to your dependent day care flexible spending for yourself and/or your dependents, these coverages become effective as soon as administratively practicable (generally as of the first day of the first full pay cycle following the receipt of your elections).

For plans where a beneficiary is named to receive a benefit in the event of a death, you can change your beneficiary elections at any time.

Your spouse's new job may result in changes to your child and elder care needs. You can get help with day care arrangements for your child or elderly relative through the Dependent and Elder care program by contacting Guidance Resources®.

Other things to think about

You may want to review your tax withholding elections and complete a new W-4 form if you decide to make any changes. The amount of your take home pay may change if you make any changes to your benefits or tax withholding elections. You can get a W-4 form and any necessary state tax forms from:

- BSCConnect or directly from your state's website

Once you have completed and signed the forms, send to the HR Service Center

Death of an employee

Death of an employee

For your own peace of mind, you may want to be assured that your loved ones will be taken care of if something were to happen to you. Remember that you should routinely review your beneficiary on file for BSC basic life insurance as well as the one on file with the various benefit Plans you may be enrolled in.

Death of an employee process

HR Service Center responsibilities when notified of death of an employee.

1. HR Service Center receives termination via SuccessFactors or Employee Action Form and enters into SuccessFactors.
2. Termination case is opened.
3. Manager and HR Business Partner Notification is sent advising of the termination date and to fill out the Employee Separation Checklist.
4. Termination case is then sent to Payroll.
5. Upon receipt of the required documentation (copy of death certificate; copy of police report for AD&D claim), the HR Service Center will provide the death certificate to the appropriate vendors and notify the beneficiary.

For more information, contact the HR Service Center; phone: 1-800-570-4455
